

LGAA September 2014 Meeting Minutes

Sept. 10, 5:30 p.m., VFW Hall

In attendance: Georgia Rainbolt, Betty Perkins, Marea Breedlove, Pam Quantie, Jennifer Henson, Kelly Palmer, Shaun Perkins, Fern McFarland, Robyn Pendergraft, and April Stone

1. Open Discussion

April talked about a 10-minute script-writing competition for middle school students. The topic is bullying. If you know of anyone who would like to try this—contact her.

We discussed a possibility of offering a meal, like fry bread, as a fundraiser before a ball game.

2. LGAA Newsletter:

The newsletter is a hit with the community. We have more ads than we have room for. Thank you Marea and the Methodist church for copier use and to Pam Q for providing the paper!

3. The Big Read

Joan wasn't here but she sent an email afterwards. We will hear about what we can do for the Big Read in October maybe.

4. LGAA Fall Art Tour: Oct. 18

Betty will have tickets made for this event.

Details for the event are in the August minutes. We got volunteers to stamp tickets and trade off being on-site:

Willard Stone Museum: Robyn, Pam Q, and April
Gourds, Etc. Studio: Marea and Fern
ROMP: Shaun

We are still going to have drivers/vehicles available for anyone who wants to be chauffeured. Pam Q was going to check on getting the church bus, and Jennifer said she could drive a van.

We need anyone who can to bring an item for the high-tea reception at the VFW after the tour. Marea said the Methodist church has some dishes we can use. Marea had the great idea of offering prizes based on having people's tickets stamped at each tour stop.

5. Holiday House Tour: Dec. 13

Details were in August minutes. At the Oct. or Nov. meeting, we will ask for volunteers to stamp tickets at each house.

We need to test the grill/griddle in the VFW Hall to see how it goes.

6. Christmas Children's Play

April is going to meet on Wednesdays at 4:00 at the VFW every week to get her next Children's Theater play written and arranged. Sherry Mills, the high school drama teacher, has a lot of drama students this year, and April has talked with her about getting a stage made so the play could be put on in the high school gym.

7. Next meeting: Oct. 8, 5:30 p.m.

Betty will bring tickets for both the Fall Art Tour and the Holiday House Tour.
